2014 CIVIL RIGHTS ACT OF 1964 SILVER DOLLAR

Fifty years ago, the Civil Rights Act of 1964 greatly expanded civil rights protections. It outlawed racial discrimination and segregation and served as a model for subsequent anti-discrimination laws.

Reflect on the changes brought about by this landmark law and its impact on the United States with this exquisite coin.

Celebrate the storied history of baseball and the impact it has made on our Nation's culture. Baseball and America grew up together and have been linked throughout the decades. The game has connected generations, brought people together for a common cause and mirrored our Nation's history since the Civil War. And for the past 75 years, the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in Cooperstown, New York, has served as both an educator and a custodian of this rich baseball heritage.

Now only available in silver and clad, these unique American coins are a great addition to your own collection or for the baseball fan in your life.

Surcharges of $35 for each gold coin sold, $10 for each silver coin sold, and $5 for each clad coin sold are authorized to be paid to the National Baseball Hall of Fame to help finance its operations.

Due to the variability of pricing on the precious metal markets, please visit our Web site or call for pricing and to place your order for gold coins. Prices for products containing silver are subject to change.*
